

UNIVERSITY OF MALTA
FACULTY OF ECONOMICS, MANAGEMENT AND ACCOUNTANCY

Master of Arts (Economics)

DISSERTATION TITLES

Course Group: 2000/2002

Name of Student	Title of Dissertation
Attard Antoine	The Relationship between Labour Supply and Income from Employment in Malta
Briffa Anthony	The Impact of very large projects on the Maltese Economy
Brincat Andrew	A Pricing Strategy for the Maltese Water Industry
Camenzuli Carlos Alberto	An Endogenous Growth Model for the Maltese Economy
Cassar Alan	Forecasting Inflation in Malta: Is the Philips Curve Relevant?
Cassar Jennifer	Measuring Potential Output for the Maltese Economy
Pace Christopher	The Polak Model: An Application to the Maltese Economy
Sciberras Christine	From a Bank-based to a Market-based Financial System
Scicluna Marianna	Estimating Productivity of Educational Institutions: The Case of Maltese Secondary Schools
Vella Joseph	The Influence of Houses prices on Household Consumption and Residential Investment in Malta during the period 1980 - 1998
Vella Mary Anne	The Emergence of Funded Pension Schemes in Malta: Implications of the Labour Market

Course Group: 2002/2004

Name of Student	Title of Dissertation
BORG Keith	A Hedonic Real Estate Price Index in Malta
BUGEJA Stephanie	Exchange Rate Policies in Small Open Economies
BUHAGIAR Gordon	Competition Constraints and Economic Policy in Malta
FARRUGIA Nadia	Economic Vulnerability: Developing a New Conceptual Framework and Empirically Assessing its Relationship with Economic Growth
GAVRITCHKINA Julia	The Assessment of Household Wealth in Malta
MONTFORT Karl	The Monetary Transmission Mechanism in Malta
PORTELLI Andrew	An Inquiry into the Maltese Debt Servicing - Costs at Risk
SAVONA Lara	The Use of Economic Instruments for Environmental Management in Malta
No. of Students: 8

Course Group: 2003/2005

NAME OF STUDENT	TITLE
BORG Miguel	The optimal size of government with special reference to Malta
CACHIA Sandra	Conditions for Successful Fiscal Reform in the Maltese Economy
CARUANA Elaine	Reforms to the Stability and Growth Pact: A Small State Perspective

CARUANA Kevin	Female Labour Market Participation in Malta: A Lisbon Agenda Perspective
GRECH Keith	Modelling Tourism Demand: An Almost Ideal Demand System Approach
MALLIA Mirko	The Maltese Labour Market:: Analysis and Policy Issues
MIFSUD Annabelle	The Relevance of Lisbon Indicators for Economic Growth
SCIBERRAS Louiselle	Inflation and Economic Growth

No. of Students: 8

Course Group: 2004/2006

NAME OF STUDENT	TITLE
BORG Amanda	Estimating the Shadow Price of Surgical Procedures in the Maltese Public Health Sector
BUTTIGIEG GILI Maruska	Should Central Banks Incorporate Financial Stability Considerations in Reaching Monetary Policy Decisions? The Case for the Central Bank of Malta
GRIMA Fabian	The Impact of Oil Price Shocks on the G7 Economies
MEILAK Christopher A.	Measuring Export Concentration - The Implications for Small States
MUSCAT Pauline	International Capital Flows – To What Extent Do These Impact on Growth in Developing Countries?
PIZZUTO Alexandra	Adjusting the Human Development Index for Economic Vulnerability and Resilience
PSAILA Keith	Micro Firms in Malta - Their Influence on Macro Economic Activity: Implications for Enterprise Policy

SAMMUT David

Testing for Ricardian Equivalence for the Maltese Economy

SPITERI Kristy

Electricity Sector Reforms in the European Union. Implications for Malta

ZERAFÀ Mary Anne

The Relationship between Unemployment Benefits and Labour Market Participation - An Analytical Report for Malta

No. of Students: 10